

Fairness
at Work for Postal Workers

Fairness at Work for Postal Workers

Dear Mr Leighton and Mr Crozier

I am an employee of Royal Mail and I am concerned about a number of policies that the business is following that do not support the aims of creating a "Great Place to Work".

Can You Explain?

- Why Royal Mail intends to remove SENIORITY as the method of selecting duties when it is quite clearly the fairest method and rewards loyalty and service to the business. Seniority has existed in the post office for over 150 years and does not discriminate on the grounds of race, sex or creed.
- Why does the Business discriminate against Part-Time staff and not pay them the same shift and skills allowance when they perform the same duties as Full-Time Staff.
- Why does the Business discriminate against New Entrants by not paying them Sick Pay in their first 12 months of service?

In anticipation of a speedy response!

My Name

My Workplace

Yours sincerely

My Home Address

Affix
stamp
here

Mr Leighton and Mr Crozier
Royal Mail Head Quarters
148 Old Street
London
EC1V 9HQ